Mr. Hill made a number of complimentary references to Anderson and Anderson's people while he was in the city and said that he enjoyed his stay here.

Mr. Brissey Is In the Hospital.

J. A. Brissey, who suffered painful injuries last Thursday when he was thrown from his wagon, was brought from his home near High Shoals to the Anderson county hospital yesterday. Mr. Brissey was not recovering as rapidly as his physician had hoped and for that reason it was deemed best to bring him here, where a more thorough and complete examination could be made. Mr. Brissey is the father of W. L. Brissey.

Back From the E. T. C. Meeting.

A majority of Anderson's delegates to the Grand Council of the United Commercial Travelers, in session at Greenville through Friday and Saturday, returned to the city last night. They report that the Anderson delegation was very much in evidence during all parts of the meeting and they claim that the occasion was one of the most enjoyable they have ever participated in.

Young Man Was Injured.

Henry Holcombe, who is employed at W. L. Brissey's lumber plant, suffered a slight injury yesterday when his hand was struck by a circular saw. Fortunately Mr. Holcombe managed to get the member out of the saw before it had hardly more than touched him and he was not seriously injured. The wound was dressed by physicians and now the injured man is doing nicely. He is a nephew of Mr. Brissey.

Hill To Speak For Spartanburg.

It has been announced that the Spartanburg lodge of Elks will put up a strong bid for the next meeting of the State Association, to be held in 1915, and Solicitor Albert E. Hill has been selected by his lodge to tender Spartanburg's invitation. It is said that the Anderson meeting will see a merry fight over the association's next meeting place, as it is understood that Columbia will try to get it and it is rumored that Charleston will also put in a bid. All the plans for the association are moving along in first class shape and the coming meeting of the Elks will be the most successful yet held.

Unique Figure On the Streets.

Anderson yesterday entertained a very interesting visitor, A. J. Murphy of Canada. Mr. Murphy has no arms and no legs, yet he can walk almost as well as the average man and the casual observer would never detect the fact that he has artificial limbs. Mr. Murphy says that he has his limbs frozen off in the great freeze of 1888, being at time at Manitoba. He is a curiosity and makes a sterling example of what a man can do if he has enough determination. He makes his living by giving lectures and selling pamphlets and is a very interesting talker. Incidentally, he is said to be an expert pool player.

Mr. Livingstone Is Going to Spartanburg.

O. K. Livingstone, Sr., who has been the proprietor of the Hotel Geer for the past six months, has announced that he will shortly move to Spartanburg and take charge of a hotel there. Mr. Livingstone conducted the Belton Hotel in a splendid manner since he assumed the management of the place and Belton people will regret to lose him. It is understood that Mrs. Geer will return to Belton and resume the management of the hotel.

Business Was Below Average.

Anderson merchants said last night that the day's business was considerably less than had been expected. Most of the merchants had expected that Friday's rain would bring great throngs of shoppers to the city but this was not the case. While fairly good crowds were in the city for the day, but little buying was done and trade was not very brisk.

Anderson Boys With the Club.

Manly Hutchison and Frank Cox, two Anderson boys, are with the Furman University Glee Club, which is now touring the state, stopping at a number of the more important towns. These two young men are said to be drawing cards with the glee club and the entire attraction is taking well wherever they appear.

Returned Missionary Visiting Friends Here.

Levi W. E. Entzinger, who has been a missionary from this county to Brazil for the last 23 years, is spending a few weeks in Anderson with friends and relatives. At present the missionary is stopping at the home of Judge W. F. Cox but will probably visit other friends before taking his departure from Anderson. Mr. Entzinger is wrapped up in his work and he says that the field has not yet been touched. He asserts that there is much good being done on every side in his field.

Rain Failed To Fall Again.

Anderson people were jubilant yesterday morning when they raised their windows and took a peep at the sky. It was over cast and very cloudy and indications were that the county would enjoy a good rain yesterday but this delightful anticipation failed to materialize. The weather grew colder shortly before noon and not a drop of rain fell during the day. Considerable disappointment was occasioned also because of the fact that Friday afternoon's rain was not general. Some parts of the county got plenty, other sections received no more than did the city of Anderson, and in some sections no rain fell at all.

Architect Is Expected Daily.

Members of the Anderson Theatre Company are expecting Charles K. Bryant of Richmond, Va., to arrive in the city within the next few days. Mr. Bryant is architect for the theatre company and has been instrumental in closing the deal for the location in Richmond. Mr. Bryant is to go from Anderson to San Francisco where he is to put up the Richmond building for the Panama exposition. In all probability the visit from Mr. Bryant will bring all the theatre negotiations to a close and work on the new building will soon be started.

Brock-McLean Wedding.

Lafayette, Ala., June 5.—(Special)—The beautiful home of Mrs. Frank P. Brock was the scene of loveliness with decorations of pink pens, palms and ferns on last Wednesday evening, the occasion being the marriage of her daughter, Miss Marie, to Mr. William DeRoy McLean, of Anderson, S. C. This happy event was fraught with much interest upon the party of the many friends of the contracting parties here and at many other places. There was gathered to witness the nuptials many whose appreciation was attested by the large number of handsome and costly presents of such variety as to prove the high regard and loving esteem in which this couple is held by their many friends.

At the appointed hour, with the soft strains of a beautiful wedding march played by Miss Carrie Lee Schuessler, there entered the bride party and the bride, Miss Marie, in Misses Bessie Raby and Elizabeth Fuller, doubly attired in white lace and pink ribbon, followed by Miss Alberta Brock, of Anson, S. C., Miss Mary Jeter, of Atlanta, and Messrs. Hugh Seibels, of Columbia, S. C., and Eugene Watson, of Anderson. Immediately following came the maid of honor, Miss Lillian Brock, sister of the bride, and the bride, accompanied by her mother, who gave her away in marriage. The groom met them with his best man, Mr. Ernest McLean, of New York, before an altar of palms and ferns, where stood Rev. Frank L. Aldridge, pastor of the Methodist church, who, in the solemn and impressive words of the Methodist ritual, uniting two hearts and made them one. The wedding ring was used in the ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony friends gathered about the newly wedded couple and showered them with congratulations, and with a spirit of love wished that the blending of the bonds might be: "The rainbow to the storm of life, The evening beam that smiles the clouds away And this tomorrow with prophetic rays."

The bride's gown was of white Charmeuse, embroidered in roses, the bodice a lattice of pearls over tulle finished with a Medici collar of real lace and veil of tulle, arranged cap-effect, edged with lace and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of valley lilies. The maids carried La Tosca baskets of sweet peas and the bridesmaids wore a gown of white Charmeuse and wore a gown of white Charmeuse, trimmed with Craquelie lace, the waist finished with Medici collar. Miss Brock was gowned in pink crepe meteor, the bodice of pink embroidered chiffon and lace. Miss Jeter's gown was of pluk pussy-willow taffeta with a tunic of lace, the waist finished with pearls. Miss Alberta Brock wore pink crepe meteor, draped in Duchess lace and finished in pearls.

A few hours were spent most joyously, punch being served by Misses Sarah Timmons and Sue Pearson, of Lafayette, and Mary Denson, of Opelika. After a buffet luncheon the bridal party motored to Opelika, where they boarded the train for New York, Washington and other points of interest. The bride's going away gown was of navy blue serge with a waist of Georgette crepe and imported hat of black hemp trimmed with Gura feathers and laquered ribbon.

The out of town guests were: Miss Alice Askew, West Point, Ga.; Miss Mattie May Frederick, Jacksonville, Fla.; Misses Ruth and Mary McGhee, of Hayneville, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon, Cussets, Ala.; Judge N. D. Denson, John V. Denson, Miss Mary Denson, of Opelika, Ala.; Miss Mary Jeter, of Atlanta; Miss Alberta Brock, Anderson, S. C.; Mr. Eugene Watson, Anderson, Mr. Hugh Seibels, Columbia, S. C., and Mr. Ernest McLean, New York.
